The 1956 football season, if measured on a won and lost basis, was not a successful one. The Quakers were and still will be in the process of rebuilding.

In the opener, played on September 29th, the Quakers fought from behind to down a stubborn Bridgewater club 12-7. This proved to be the Quakers lone victory. The remaining games saw the Grey and Red completely outclassed. This was chiefly attributed to by the fact that the squad was very inexperienced.

The Quakers will lose three members of this year's squad via graduation. They are: Van Cuthrell, Jim Shelton, and Herman Clark. Van held down the quarterback position for four years, while Jim gave the Quakers an added punch at fullback for two years. Herman saw only one year's service in the Quaker livery and actually will be back next year. However, he has used up his allotted eligibility.

Some outstanding freshmen were developed this year. They are: Morris Jester, Bob Holloway, Frank Kersey, Lester Parker, John Meroney, and Bob Smith. All of these gridders figure to be future stars as well as the backbone of future squads.

In the individual departments, John Meroney, Jim Doughtry, Ben Rich, Henry Siler, and Ralph Nelson received honors. John Meroney received the best tackler award, the best blocker award went to Jim Doughtry and Ben Rich was the recipient of the best hustler award. At the close of the season Henry Siler and Ralph Nelson were named as the team co-captains.

Summing up—This year Coach Appenzeller laid the foundation, next year should see a gradual improvement.

BASKETBALL

The 1956-57 Quakers, after a year's absence, once again participated in the North State Conference Basketball Tournament. As in the past they again proved to be the sentimental choice of the fans. Unfortunately the Quakers drew mighty Lenoir-Rhyne in the first game and only after a terrific struggle did they finally succumb by the score of 70-58.

A final tabulation showed the Quakers to have won four games. A vast improvement over the previous season, in fact, their best record since 1953-54.

Captain Bob Atlas, senior guard from Atlantic City, New Jersey, led the squad into the conference tournament. The remainder of the starting five saw Bob Henderson at the other guard position, Jim Burgess and Bob Young alternating at center, and Don Hemrick and Bill Roddy at forwards.

Other members of the squad who figured prominently in the Quakers scheme of things were: Buddy Farrell, Sam Getsinger, Bob Berger, Tommy Dillon, Gordon Brewer, and Vince Breitenberger who was lost to the team at the semester.

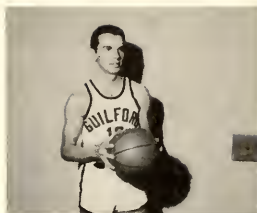

Ex-Guilfordian Bob Shoaf, in his first year as basketball mentor, did a remarkably fine job and is deserving of much praise.

In completing his third year Don Hemrick took another step towards breaking the school's all-time scoring record. He finished among the top ten scorers in the loop with an average of better than eighteen points per game.

Summing up—Farewell to Captain Bob Atlas and hopes that next year will be an ever better one.

North Stote
Conference

The 1957 tennis team, led by conference champions Atlas and Washburn, placed third in the conference. Coach Shoaf deserves high praise for the excellent job his charges turned in. Season record—won 11: lost 3.

Bob Atlas and Jordan Washburn won the doubles championship in the tournament for the second year in a row.

M. Nixon, J. Askins, H. Haworth, J. Washburn, R. Atlas.

Led by Pat Brady, the Quaker's golf team finished the best record of its history. They captured the North State Conference regular season championship, the North State Conference Tournament Championship, and the individual tournament scores. Season record—won 9; lost 3.

Coach Baker, McNeil, Goforth, Brady, S. Bishop, Crawford, Vance.

Baseball

The 1957 baseball squad played a total of twenty games during the spring, meeting sixteen conference foes and four non-conference nine's.

At the time of this writing, Coach Maynard expected to build the team around the following men. Pitchers, Guy Dowd, George Petty, Danny Carr, Tom O'Brian, Ray Schirmer, Charles Benedetto, and Russell Gray. Infielders, Charlie Atkinson, Bill Roddy, John Bell, Billy West, Sonny Cashion, Roddy Deans, and Joe Pegram. Catcher, Bob Allred, who in '56 was a tower of strength batting .367. Outfielders, Don Hemrick, C. E. Osborne, Jack Purgason, and Tommy Dillon.

Among those returning from the 1956 squad who were expected to be the backbone of the club were: Joe Pegram, a .290 hitter, Don Hemrick, Billy West, and Bob Allred.

As we went to press a close race was in prospect, with the Quakers to be in the thick of things.

First Row, Left to Right: Billy West, Sonny Cashion, Russell Gray, Jack Purgason, Don Hemrick, Tommy Dillon, Bob Allred. Second Row: Bob Gillmore, Tom O'Brian, Harold Burrows, Charles Benedetto, Joe Pegram, Bill Roddy. Third Row: George Petty, Ray Schirmer, Guy Dowd, C. E. Osborne, Danny Carr, Stuart Maynard, Coach.

The return of track to the spring sports calendar proved to be a successful one. The squad enjoyed a five hundred season which was climaxed by a third place finish in the conference meet. Under the fine leadership of Coach Appenzeller the "thin clads" provided the fans with some highly interesting action; as attested to by the exciting win over the Wake Forest Freshmen.

Some of the outstanding members of the squad were: Bob Rosier, "Spider" Webb, Sam Getsinger, Bob Henderson, Jim Burgess, Dave Hardin, and Billy Garner.

All who took part in the program did a wonderful job and are deserving of much praise. If the '57 season is an indication of what can be expected in the future years, then the return of track will have indeed been a successful one.

The Years Were Three and Twenty

the years were three and twenty
when I fell flaming in the furnace fire and crab crawled through fingers of web and night cut by scissors singing bells and chimes of love through the night

three and twenty were wait enough for the flowing, flowering sky fall up the length to reach the curling hours of blood that climb the tree to splinter
the egg by rain of rippled love center cell

enough and time enough
have enough remaining yet
from the young and rolling years of growth, from sperm and egg to man and love, surpassed by none
this two made one time enough in a single finger touch of love to know fulfilled and green that endless growth of years from the womb and the tears that tread the fragile crevices of the mind and leaver through shadows of thought from a single finger touch of love to the all and swinging clasp enveloping and bursting into flowers the swelling fullness that changes and dances, flails and designs into the vast gulf of the ineffable

The most influen-

I liked him very much. Then he came with a smile, "That's why I

A Stone in Memorial

There were stones, granite and marble,
Massive grey bulks,
And slim white spires,
Engraved with words and dates that meant little to most
I walked among them,
Noting some for their beauty and their meaning,
And stood before one for long moments
While reveries flooded my mind . . . And then moved on;
There they lay,
Those who had lived in their simple faith,
And died in that faith
Returning to the Earth as their Maker had ordained,
With only an engraving to hold their memory
Suddenly I came upon a slab of mud-brown stone
Which was inscribed only by the wind and ram of centuries,
A stone without distinction
Rising there as a nameless
And yet, as the others.

I thanked my God for the moun-

Forum Offered Campus Writers, Essayists, Poets

It is the hope of the Guilford staff that this will be only the first of a series of literary issues. The hope depends, of course, on the student body. If enough interest is shown—concretely, in manuscript—other literary numbers will follow this one.

This first issue is put together from the work of a very few students. The literary editor simply had to ask for manuscripts from students whom he knew were doing some writing and from members of the newspaper staff. We, the staff hopes, is that the publication of this work will show to campus literary neophytes that they are not alone, that it will encourage them to offer their work.

The literary standards of the issue and subsequent issues are set by the material submitted. The aim is to show what is actually being written by Guilford students—by a few of them but by all of them. Verse, fiction, criticism, says, will all be welcome. Naturally, we want to publish the best of the offerings, but we want also to publish a representative sample to include as many different kinds of writing and as many different points of view as we can possibly accommodate.

We can't do this unless you—the hidden talent—come out from your hiding place.

Publication should be the writer's goal, not as a vague probability of the future, but as the immediate aim of every word he sets on paper, from the very first tentative attempts he makes. It is perfect discipline, the enemy of carelessness and laxness, when writer asks himself "Is this, the way I want it to be published?" giving his work a true test.

In addition, the writer is not alone, if he says "This is of myself for my own satisfaction."

That statement is simply a statement of the essential nature of the writer's art: its effect upon human consciousness. You can find out what effect you are achieving only by seeing for yourself.

"But we didn't mean to get that rowdy."

I never did like to go to chapel—

Well, they said informal—

(Mmmm! What pretty legs you have, Joe!)

Have some, uh, milk!

Brush your teeth with Colgate—
